DECIDEDLY OFF COLOR

Was the Demonstration of Basketball.Twenty-Four to Nine and Twenty-
One to Three were the Score in the Two Battles.

The Marion High School athletes were a little off color at Marysville last night when both the boys and girls teams went down in defeat to the fast husky teams of that city. It was practically the first game for the newly organized girls' team and little could be expected from them, but the boys team which so triumphantly defeated the same bunch on the local floor several weeks ago, didn't have a look-in at any stage of the game and were easily defeated by the score of 24 to 9. The girls were defeated by the score of 21 to 9, having been barred from a single field basket.

In the game between the regular high school teams, both teams played very rough ball and Ross, of the locals, was disqualified in the second half for continued fouling. Gillett substituting. As Marysville had its own referee, the players used the point to a great advantage, and many times received a single foul decision when it should have been double, according to all witnesses.

Basket from Field—Connor, 5; McElroy, 3; Gabriel, 1; Grills, 1; Ross, 1. Poul goals—McElroy, 6; Sells, 5. Referee and umpire, Amerline and Douthitt alternating. Time of halves, 29 minutes.

The girls' game was a regular farce comedy and the local team seemed to be the victims. The Marysville bunch were fast, had excellent team work and used their heads. Marion won three points on fouls.

Baskets from field—Wilber, 7; Miller, 2. Poul goals, Wilber, 3; Nash, 3. Sheridan, of Marysville, and Douthitt, of Marion, alternating. Time of halves, fifteen minutes.

ASKS TO BE MADE
BOY'S GUARDIANDavid McMurtrie Applies to the Probate Court.No Action will be Taken Until After the Hearing of the Habeas Corpus Case.

David McMurtrie, the grandfather of twelve-year-old David McMurtrie Rayl, whose father, John E. Rayl, yesterday started habeas corpus proceedings to get possession of the child, filed an application in the probate court this morning to be appointed guardian of the boy.

Mr. McMurtrie was called back from New York by a telegram, announcing the trouble which occurred Thursday evening, when the father attempted forcibly to take possession of the child, and as the grandfather is opposed to the father having the boy, he has applied to having himself appointed guardian. No action will be taken on the matter until after the hearing of the habeas corpus matter in the common pleas court, Monday morning.

ORGANIZATION POSTPONED

Waldo Farmers Will Meet Again,
March 14th.

On account of the inclemency of the weather, the attendance at the meeting of the charter members of the Waldo Grange Friday night, was very light. Consequently, but little business was considered. The state organizer was present and offered a number of remarks. It was decided to put off organization until a meeting to be held on Thursday evening March 14. The organizers have received sufficient charter signers to effect a permanent organization, but it was thought best not to rush the matter, as scores of new members are signing weekly.

NEWS OF THE LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

The Tigers defeated the Leopards in three straight games rolled on the Y. M. C. A. bowling alleys last night. Sensational scores were few. The scores:

An interesting meeting of the Athletic committee of the Y. M. C. A. was held Friday evening. Physical director Douthitt suggested that the Board of Public Service improve the east end park suitably and designate certain days for the holding of physical exercises. Mr. Douthitt has promised in this event to give his services as instructor free of charge. He would organize a schoolboys' shop men and business men's league and if the Service Board will provide for it, a tennis league.

LIMIT TO SENSE OF ANIMALS.

John Burroughs' Theory That They Commit Suicide.

"I do not believe that animals ever commit suicide. I do not believe that they have any notions of death or take any note of time, or ever put up any bluff game, or ever deliberate together, or form plans or forecast the seasons.

"They may practice deception, as when a bird feigns lameness or paralysis to decoy you away from her nest, but this, of course, is instinctive and not conscious deception.

"There is at times something that suggests cooperation among them, so when wolves hunt in relays, as they are said to do, or when they hunt in couples, one engaging the quarry in front while the other assaults it from the rear; or when quail roost upon the ground in a ring, their tails in the center, their heads outward; or, as when cattle or horses form a circle when attacked in the open by wild beasts, the cattle with their heads outward and the horses with their heels.

"Of course, all of this is instinctive and not the result of deliberation, writes John Burroughs, in Outlook. The horse always turns his tail to the storm as well, and cows and steers, if I remember rightly, turn their heads."

CURED HIM OF CALF LOVE.

Actress' Ruse That Got Rid of Undesired Admirer.

Miss Maud Branscombe the famous actress, relates an amusing story concerning the unappreciated attentions of a youth who once fell in love with her. The young man's parents were much concerned about the matter, and implored the actress not to marry him.

"I'll give him a sound thrashing," said the father.

"Don't do that," said Miss Branscombe. "There is a better way of curing him. After the performance this evening I'll put on an old dress and hat, and make myself up to look quite ugly. You bring your boy around to the stage door and point me out to him as I come out."

This was done, and so cleverly was the ruse carried out that Miss Branscombe heard the youth exclaim to his father as she passed them:

"My golly! I thought she was pretty!"

The Good Little Cent.

Dr. Munhall recently closed a successful religious campaign in Emporia says the Kansas City Journal. A great many pennies had been put in the offering, and his attention was called to this. One night he held up a silver dollar and a copper penny and gave a conversation held by the two coins. "You poor little red cent you, you don't amount to anything. I'd hate to be you," said the big dollar. "I know I'm not very big," replied the cent, "but the children like me, and I can buy a good many things." "Huh! you can't buy anything at all," said the dollar. "Just look at me, big and bright and shiny. I can buy a whole lot more than you can." "Maybe so," said the little red cent, meekly, "but I go to church a heap oftener than you do anyway."

Colors for Emotions.

Leon Gozlan, the poet, has given the impression of colors, which he gets from emotions. Thus he says: Piety makes him feel pale blue; resignation pearl gray; joy a pretty apple green; satiety a pale chocolate; pleasure a beautiful velvety pink; steep suggests tobacco smoke; reflection is orange; pain a sooty black and boredom is chocolate.

Having to pay a bill makes him feel lead-colored, while to receive money calls up visions of flaming red. Rent day is burnt Sienna. To go for the first time to meet the object of his admiration gives him a week tea color feeling, but the twentieth meeting like the color of very strong tea. No color is suggested by happiness, for he says he has never known it.

Finding Flaws in Metals.

To detect hidden cracks opening from the surface of metals, the surface is first moistened with kerosene, and is then dried off with a cloth. It is then coated with chalk. A sort of diagram of the hidden fissures and defects is thus produced.

The Sultan's Flag.

The commercial houses of Hamburg are to guard themselves against defalcations by causing their cashiers to affix their thumb-prints to all checks and receipts. Finger-prints are obviously to take a more general place in our daily affairs. The mark of Bill Stumps will in future be an impression of a thumb dipped in ink, instead of the cross made while he lays a finger upon the pen which another man guides. But the Turks had thought all this out centuries ago. On the personal flag of the sultan to-day you may trace the finger-prints of the sultan, Murad I., imprinted on it five-and-a-half-hundred years ago. He could not write, but needing a device for his standard, he dipped his open hand in ink, and dabbed that upon the paper from which the design was to be wrought. They wrote in between the finger-marks his name and titles, and that device has lasted to this day. The names are altered for each reign, but the sign-manual of the illiterate sultan remains.
